Brandiston, Norfolk, 8 October, 2009 - In today's competitive times, it is essential that one stays updated with latest advertising tools and techniques so that more and more audiences can be reached in the least possible time. Adwords-magic.biz/adwords-elearning provides e-learning courses on AdWords so that business users can do away from the physical requirements of traditional trainings.

System configuration of 1024 * 768 screen resolution, broadband internet connectivity and Microsoft Office are the requirements that students need to arrange at their end. BeamYourScreen® provides assistance regarding PC communications technology through which instructor's screen can be watched during e-learning sessions.

A basic and an advanced course are offered for AdWords learning enthusiasts. These courses can be availed by three participants at a time and usually spans 5-6 hours. Downloadable handouts, live demonstrations and online slides are utilized for teaching by the site's AdWords experts.

The basic eAdWords course includes information on keywords, Google's advertising and network programs, criteria for advertising and business definition, keyword discovery or mining, Tiered Account Model, building and optimizing AdWords campaigns, helpful Google services and developing landing pages and effective ads.

For users already having AdWords account, courses are tailored as per their account review and special features added to the ones already listed above. These include techniques for website optimization such as SMO (social media optimization) and SEO (search engine optimization). Online promotion and marketing techniques are also explained in this course.

The site allows business users to book slots for online trainings and seminars tailored to their business requirements so that the entire staff can avail the benefits of Google AdWords. Few sample slides are also provided for getting a feel of the actual thing. Business objectives and account reviews are taken into account while designing these online AdWords trainings.
