

Easy mobile online access with Ubuntu Linux

Date: 10-15-2009 01:06 PM CET

Category: IT, New Media & Software

Press release from: nova media MDS GmbH

nova media today unveiled a mobile Internet connection manager für Ubuntu 9.04 and 8.10, called 'launch2net'.

This sleek little program includes all necessary drivers to work with many 3G USB modems and offers a convenient interface to connect to the internet.

"It only takes a few minutes from downloading to getting online with absolutely no hassle.", states Jan Fuellemann, spokesperson of nova media. "We want to bring the best mobile online experienceto Ubuntu Linux."

launch2net features a comprehensive SMS text message manager to send, receive and manage SMS text messages. A statistic window offers detailed information about oline time and data throughput for each connection.

launch2net 2.0 for Ubuntu Linux is available as free BETA version at www.novamedia.de/en/linux-launch2net-ubuntu.html.

The founders of "nova media Mobile Data Solutions GmbH" started their business in 1996 in Berlin. The company specializes in mobile data solutions for Mac OS X and LINUX. More information is available at www.novamedia.de or by phone at +49 30 390 90 40.

Jan Fuellemann

nova media MDS GmbH
Reuchlinstrasse 10-11
10553 Berlin
Germany

Tel. +49 30 3909040
Fax +49 30 39090424

fuellemann@novamedia.de

You can find this press release here