Press release from: Plunet

Plunet, the leading supplier of Business and Workflow Management Software for the translation industry is proud to announce the opening of the new North American Division.

The new division will provide pre-sales, sales, implementation and training services to our current and future North American customers. In addition to the immediate reinforcement of the North American team Plunet now offers a new US/Canada toll-free number "1 - 888 - PLUNET - 1" for all telephone enquiries. Our multilingual staff will answer you in English, Spanish, French and German. Therewith, Plunet reacts on the impressive software sales and continuously growing number of customer requests in the US and Canada within the last months.

About Plunet

Plunet GmbH, represented in Würzburg and Berlin, develops and markets the business and workflow management software "Plunet BusinessManager" - one of the world's leading standard software solutions for translation sector.

Using a web-based platform, the system offers an excellent tool for business, workflow and document management and integrates translation software, financial accounting systems as well as existing system environments for translation service providers and language services.
