Making his second debut in a month, California designer Carl Blackburn has unveiled a striking new line of cufflinks: The Neo Renaissance Collection™. Crafted in sterling silver and 18k gold, these iconic cufflinks are designed as an elegant accoutrement to the wardrobe of today's professionals. "I am continuously meeting outstanding business people with incredibly diverse skills and knowledge," says Blackburn. "And it occurred to me that these individuals are really the Renaissance men and women of our generation. I wanted to create something that acknowledged and celebrated multi-talented individuals."

Currently available at PearlmansJewelers.com and the online vintage boutique Topazery.com, the Neo Renaissance Collection is the latest achievement for revivalist designer Carl Blackburn, who excited industry buzz at the recent JA New York Summer Show with his Neo Classics 2007 couture collection of diamond rings, earrings, eternity bands, and pendant necklaces. Once again Blackburn plumbs the regal depths of a rich European ancestry and returns with a bold yet refined look that remains remarkably contemporary.

The highlights of Blackburn's Neo Renaissance Collection include a pair of octagonal cufflinks set with brilliant 2.0 mm bezel set diamonds, surrounded by stunning heart and dagger insignias that recall the shields of King Arthur's Round Table; and a pair of luxuriously oversized square cufflinks with enchanting fleur de lis motifs crafted in 18k yellow gold inside granulated frames. All Neo Renaissance cufflinks are presented in a handcrafted finely lacquered gift box and accompanied by a lifetime replacement guarantee. Retail price ranges from $250 – $450.
