West Palm Beach, FL - August 29, 2006 - Today, the world renowned political scientist Gary K. Busch announced his endorsement of Daniel Imperato's Independent presidential candidacy in 2008. Imperato said "My campaign is greatly honored to receive the endorsement of Gary K. Busch. He is recognized around the world as a leading expert on African affairs. His endorsement means a great deal to me personally, and it provides our campaign with a top notch advisor on political affairs in Africa."

Imperato has expressed deep concerns about the African continent, by calling attention to the growing influence of terrorists in the East African countries of Somalia, Kenya, Ethiopia and the Sudan. Imperato is also a trustee of the Africa Center Foundation, a United Nations Non-Governmental Organization.

In addition to his background in political science, the American born Busch has been engaged in trade and business on the African continent for many years. As a leading scholar on Africa, Busch has written extensively on international affairs. As a journalist, his writings are published throughout Europe, Russia and the Middle East. His on-line journal OCNUS.Net features a broad array of commentary and reporting by international journalists. Busch now resides in London, England.
