Splurge Art Gallery is proud to host the vernissage by Chilean artist Carolina Echeverria on December 29th at Splurge Art Gallery.

CAROLINA ECHEVERRIA is no stranger to controversy. Her past exhibits have always challenged the social norm. Carolina believes in the power of a woman to change the current of perception in today's world. A stranger in a strange land, she has adapted to a new culture, but protected her true self from it at the same time. This delicate balance is seen in her paintings that combine delicate feminism with the instinct to protect that beauty.

Carolina's "Crimson" series are works on TerraSkin rock paper, 'Cradle to Cradle' certified. It uses no trees, water or toxic chemicals. Her eco-friendly work is featured at Splurge, the first gallery to have paintings done on TerraSkin.
