Innovative prepaid top-up solution chosen

Paderborn (Germany), 29 December 2009: Orga Systems, leading provider of convergent real-time billing, announces that it will deliver its innovative prepaid top-up solution Virtual Voucher to a leading European mobile network operator. Orga Systems' Virtual Voucher enables mobile network operators to sell prepaid airtime and communication services in real time. The sophisticated sales and distribution system is designed to support a hierarchical network of distributors and retailers, and it provides comprehensive functionality for all aspects of sales and channel management in real time.

Selling pre-paid communication services anywhere at any time

Orga Systems' Virtual Voucher uses standard GSM mobile handsets as vending devices and provides the sales person with a convenient means for direct recharge of a subscribers' account. It allows the sale of prepaid communication services anytime and anywhere. The system supports sales and distribution channels in retail/high-street shop environments as well as in so-called street seller scenarios. Compared to other recharge and top-up systems, Virtual Voucher provides immediate ROI advantages and superior operational benefits for launching, monitoring and controlling dedicated prepaid recharge strategies. It is ideally suited to target new and existing customer segments in rural as well as in highly populated metropolitan areas.

The solution has been awarded the TMForums 2008 Excellence Awards and the Global Telecoms Business Innovation Awards 2008. More than 20 installations of Virtual Voucher in the Americas and in Europe underline the solution's high scalability and robustness, making it the perfect alternative to common top-up solutions.

As the pioneer of GSM prepaid billing, Orga Systems has gained highly qualified expertise in real-time charging and billing.

Orga Systems focuses on real-time based solutions for customer billing and administration in mobile telecommunication services and set important milestones for the industry regularly to further expanded its leading position.

Orga Systems' high-performance database, InCore® is currently the fastest data technology worldwide with regards to access speed.

Mobile operators need future-proof billing systems which offer clear service and cost benefits.

The fully convergent real-time billing platform OPSC Gold guarantees their profitable growth.
