Rockland, Maine -- Rather than drive around using expensive gas to find just the right gift, Spen Carney knows that more and more people are doing as much shopping as possible on the Internet.

"The high price of gas has caused many people to do their shopping on the Internet. They want to save gas and time, but they are also price conscious as they look for just the right gift for someone special. I created www.GreatStuffAndThenSome.com to help people accomplish those goals," said Carney.

The company offers gift baskets uniquely designed for every possible event and occasion. The selection and variety are very attractive and creative. The company also carries a full assortment of other unique gifts as well.

"Gift baskets can express much thought and care and are well-received no matter the occasion. Be it a holiday, birthday, wedding, special event, condolence, thank you or even corporate recognition, the recipient always appreciates the intended expression," said Carney.

"The gift basket you choose to order, depending on the special occasion, could contain a variety of popular items such as candy, flowers, popcorn, gourmet items, cigars, chocolate, snacks, soap, and even bath and body items. People give them for all the standard holidays, weddings, birthdays, accomplishments, showers, housewarming, get well, as well as for a special romantic expression," he added.

The company offers more than just gift baskets, as the name implies. "Then Some" includes such items as prepared meals, Omaha steaks, Green Mountain coffee, Hickory Farms, salmon, desserts, breakfast foods, appetizers and hors d' oeuvres, kosher gifts and foods, low carb food, flowers and plants, candy and chocolate, soups, baked goods, cheese, Maine lobster and clams, scallops, and caviar.

"I created a business that offers gifts for busy people who want quality, convenience of shopping on the Internet, and savings. Our customers save both time and money by leaving the car in the driveway and shopping with their mouse instead of using gas to run all over town," said Carney.
