Chicago -- PSP owners can download an unlimited number of movies, TV shows, games, and music as a member of a new web site created just for them.

Members pay a small, one-time fee at www.officialmoviedownloads.com/psp-blend and then receive instant access to millions of downloads. The quality videos are available in HD and DVD.

"We have every type of game available on our site, including the most popular action, strategy, role-playing, sports, and other games. We also offer our members millions movies, television shows, songs, full albums, not to mention other downloads like software, images, ebooks, and more," said Tim Foss, owner of the web site.

There are no additional fees to pay beyond the initial membership fee. Members can download as many files as they wish, with no limitations. The download process is very simple.

"The files are downloaded to your computer then you simply transfer the files straight to your PSP using a USB cable or compatible memory stick reader. We offer complete step by step instructions making the process simple even for a child," explained Foss.

The web site provides simple instructions for downloads of PSP emulators and ROM games for Gameboy, Super Nintendo, and others. There is also information on how to play almost any type of video on a PSP using virtually any format. The site offers all types of audio formats as well.

The service is completely legal, according to Foss and according to information shown on the site itself.

"Instead of paying for each download you are simply paying for a life-time membership which gives you as many downloads as you would like. It is a lot simpler and less expensive," he explained.

Membership includes full technical support via e-mail, a PSP members forum, live online chat, and a toll-free technical support phone line.

"We provide full support and can help with most technical issues. If you have met the minimum requirements but still have trouble because of hardware issues we will offer a refund. A refund request must be made within 60 days of the date of the purchase," said Foss.
