

Leading international procurement company to organize sports trade shows and exhibitions in conjunction with their Libyan partner Donia alhadat in Tripoli, Libya

Date: 02-22-2010 11:17 AM CET

Category: Sports

Press release from: Redspect international

Summary:- Leading international procurement company to organize sports trade shows and exhibitions in conjunction with their Libyan partner Donia alhadat in Tripoli, Libya

Press release:- Libya is one of the seven of upper middle income economies in Africa and also finds a place in the list of wealthiest countries in the world. Even though major income for Libya comes through oil mining and export, Libya gets considerable amount of revenue from its steel petro chemical and iron manufacturing industries. Libya attracts many tourists because of its vast geography; the country is promoting tourism and has exotic hotels and shopping malls, with most of them located at Tripoli, the capital of Libya.

The Libyan government is now focusing on development of sports and sports related activities in the country. The Libyan Olympic committee and general authority for exhibitions, two top bodies related to sports are planning to organize sports trade shows with an aim to attract sports companies from all over the world and to introduce varieties of sports and sports equipments to the people of Libya.

Redspect international and core international procurement, one of the leading international procurement companies are given the responsibility to organize the sports trade shows to be held between 27th of April to 1st May this year.

The first section of the sports trade show will have international sports companies showcasing their sports equipments, cloths and other sports related items. Redspect international and core international procurement are planning to arrange the sports trade show in such a way that each exhibitor will be able to sign direct sale, contract, service agreement or MOU with the international agents on the spot.

The international procurement company, with the guidance from Libyan Olympic committee and general authority of exhibitions have arranged for enough media attraction for the sports trade show, making sure that the trade show reaches not only the general public of Libya but people throughout the world. New sports such as Five-a-side football and sports like netball, Ball throw and Mini ball will be introduced to the general public of Libya through experienced coaches in the respective sports.

Companies who develop sports infrastructure such as golf courses, football stadiums will be given special attention as the Libyan government has planned to develop sports infrastructure in the country.

The exhibition will be organized in the grounds of Tripoli international fair from 27th of April to the 1st of May. Companies who are interested to showcase their sports equipments, cloths and other items can contact Mr. Mike Rouse, who is the organizing head for the sports trade show at +0044 (0)77163396567 to get information about the sports trade show (stalls, rules and restrictions etc).

Companies in the UK can do a direct visit to Redspect international and core international procurement offices direct at + 44 (0)1912420388 to get information about the sports trade show to be held at Tripoli, Libya. Redspect international and core international procurement is located at Unit 5 Baxter Avenue

Fenham, Newcastle upon-Tyne NE4-9QD.

Redspect international and core international procurement limited are one of the leading international procurement companies with their head offices located at New castle upon tyne, UK. The companies specializes in various infrastructure and other international projects and is currently involved in several projects in Africa and Europe.

International head office, Unit 5 Baxter Avenue, Fenham, Newcastle, upon-Tyne NE4-9QD.

You can find this press release here