WAYNE, PA - March 9, 2010 - Deacom, Inc., producer of the DEACOM Integrated Accounting and Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Software System, today announced that it has been named a 2010 Hot Companies finalist by Network Products Guide.

The DEACOM ERP Manufacturing Software is designed to simply manage all areas of a building component, modular building, pharmaceutical, specialty chemical, adhesive and sealant, cosmetic, food and beverage, and paint and coatings manufacturer in one software system. The enterprise software solution is configured to handle complex business processes, such as production, inventory control, accounting, sales order entry, purchasing, labor tracking, and retail Point-of-Sale (POS), without costly customization.

Selected from a global industry analysis of information technology vendors, which included established large companies, mid-sized, and new start-ups around the world, Deacom has advanced to the finalists stage based on the "4Ps" selection criteria, namely Products, People, Performance, and Potential. The coveted 2010 Hot Companies analysis encompasses companies in all areas of information technologies, including security, wireless, storage, networking, software, and communications.

The Network Products Guide Hot Companies evaluation process also assessed candidates for entrepreneurial spirit, relevant experience, a clear understanding of the segment of the IT market in which they are active, a well-developed revenue-growth model, and clearly planned expansion strategies.

The 2010 Hot Companies winners will be announced and honored at the Technosium 2010 Presentations and Dinner at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco on March 18, 2010, where finalists will be presenting their 4Ps criteria to an audience of end-users, leading entrepreneurs, IT companies, venture capitalists, corporate strategists, and industry associations.
