Award presented by Global Purchasing Division, in recognition of achieving Caterpillar MQ11005 supplier certification.

CENTA today announced it has been awarded the Bronze Level Supplier Quality Excellence Process certification from Caterpillar Inc. The award was presented to CENTA in recognition of its commitment to providing the highest levels of products, quality and service to its customers at Caterpillar.

This certification recognises strong values and ethical principles in conducting business. Additionally, it highlights commitment to collaborate with Caterpillar's objective to implement a culture for "zero-defects" across their supplier base. The Bronze Award 2009 plaque – presented at CENTA Corporation's Aurora, IL USA office by three representatives of Caterpillar's Global Purchasing Division – reads: "Through demonstrated results, this supplier has exhibited excellent process control, has shown a desire for ongoing continuous improvement, and has provided quality product to their Caterpillar customers." The award was presented to the management team of CENTA Corporation on behalf of the global CENTA organisation and their supply of driveline couplings to Caterpillar facilities around the world.

Since 1970, the international CENTA group has been engaged in solving difficult drive train and torsional vibration challenges. Whether designing for simple applications or complex systems, the 20 unique types of CENTA flexible couplings, drive shafting, and supplementary products provide optimal results without compromise. Through 40 years of industry leading innovations, the company ranks today among the world's leading manufacturers of flexible couplings and shafting systems for industrial, marine, gas/oil, and power generation systems.
