What is more intimidating than a crowd full of devoted baseball fans chanting, "Dodgers Run LA?" Dr. Hollywood's top 40 smash hit "We Run LA" is where it all started, especially when DJ Felli Fel played the song on Power 106 four times in row! It was then customized into the perfect Lakers theme, and then a perfect fit for the Dodgers as well. Dr. Hollywood's lead singer, Louie Rubio and rapper Lex Larson, are born and raised in Beverly Hills, and there is no doubt that they know exactly how to pay their local respect, which is why it is all too surprising that they are the only unsigned artists on national rotation for major radio stations. Whether you hear them on the basketball court or on the baseball field, Dr. Hollywood's hometown team anthems are the true epitome of Los Angeles pride and dignity.

About Dr. Hollywood

Unique to the music scene, Dr. Hollywood lead singer Louie Rubio and rapper Lex Larson are the only unsigned artists on national rotation for major radio stations such as KIIS FM and Power 106 FM with their smash hit "We Run L.A." The duo originally formed Dr. Hollywood to produce for other local talent. The duo then partnered with Grammy-winner Richard "Segal" Huredia and began to work on their brand of electro-rap. Their first single "We Run L.A." quickly became a smash hit and the theme for the L.A. Lakers; it still enjoys extensive radio rotation into the summer of 2010.
