Examining the impact of using a medication tracking system to increase efficiency

Bellevue, WA – Pharmacy OneSource, software-as-a-service provider of MedBoard, a wireless medication tracking system, is pleased to announce a complimentary webinar: "Using Data and Technology to Improve and Monitor Medication Turnaround Times" presented by Sam Calabrese, RPh, MBA, Director of Inpatient Pharmacy Services at The Cleveland Clinic.

Calabrese will review the implementation of a medication tracking system to identify bottlenecks within a medication distribution system. He will review technology used to improve turnaround times by providing efficient medication distribution and will focus on a decentralized distribution model using automated dispensing cabinets, carousel technology, and delivery tracking by MedBoard.

"MedBoard has allowed us to track our medications from the point a label is printed until it reaches its final delivery location. The system has also saved time for the pharmacists and technicians by identifying the location of missing medications by preventing rework," said Calabrese.
