uCertify (August,14,2010), a leading practice test provider for IT certification exams, recently released a practice test for the ISC2 ISSAP exam.

To download the free trial of the practice test go to the link: ucertify.com/exams/ISC2/ISSAP.html

The ISSAP certification requires a candidate to demonstrate two years of professional experience in the area of architecture; and it is an appropriate credential for the Chief Security Architects and Analysts who may typically work as independent consultants, or in similar capacities. The security architect plays a key role within the information security department with responsibilities that functionally fit between the C-suite and the upper managerial level and the implementation of the security program. The candidate must have the knowledge of developing, designing, or analyzing the overall security plan.

This ISSAP exam prepares you for various job roles, which include: System Architect, Business Analyst, Chief Security Officer, Chief Technology Officer, and System and Network Designer. This concentration is an appropriate credential for Chief Security Architects and Analysts who may typically work as independent consultants, or in similar capacities.

The test is appropriate for you if you are working, or want to work, in a typically complex computing environment of medium-to-large organizations. The course provides a better scope and understanding of the following areas:

- Access Control Systems and Methodology
- Cryptography
- Physical Security Considerations
- Security Architecture Analysis
- Technology Related Business Continuity Planning (BCP) & Disaster Recovery Planning
- Communications & Network Security

Now, you don't need to spend your time and money searching for study materials, books, etc. This CISSP-ISSAP exam Preparation kit contains everything you need to get certified. Just follow the instructions; focus on the study material and getting certified will be easy.
