Press release from: Voices.com

Phyllis K. Day is a voice actor, mentor, technical writer and former radio broadcaster with over thirty years experience. Her voice work has been heard nation-wide. Phyllis currently offers voiceover workshops to new voice talent and also provides narration for e-learning and business presentations.

In Day's Voice Over Experts podcast lecture "Voice Over Stinkaholic," she introduces one of her students and shows listeners how she helped him to progress from recording the worst voice over audition that she has ever heard into a confident, more sonorous voice talent who has since landed a national spot.

Voice Over Experts is hosted by Voices.com, the voiceover marketplace. Voice Over Experts is the industry's most downloaded educational podcast featuring renowned voice over coaches from the US, Canada and abroad, offering pearls of wisdom and tricks of the trade for novice and seasoned voiceover talent. The Voice Over Experts Podcast can be found in the iTunes Podcast Directory and online at the Voices.com Podcast Center.

About Phyllis K. Day

As a Broadcast Journalism graduate of UNC Chapel Hill, Phyllis K. Day became an anchor on the North Carolina News Network. She has anchored on Business Radio Network and American Forum Radio Network in Colorado. In the 1990s, she also provided the narration for a daily show that aired on National Public Radio and Armed Forces Radio. Phyllis was part of a mentoring program for several years at North Carolina State University for the students in NC State's radio program. After thirty years in broadcasting and the voiceover industry she offers her expertise through personalized coaching workshops, e-learning and business presentations.
