August 30, 2010 (Miami, FL) – Activ Doctors Online, Electronic Medical Records innovator and developer of Second Medical Opinion online physician consultation, has recently launched a new website allowing patients to securely log in worldwide and view their medical records or request a second opinion from a network of specialists. With plans available for individuals, doctors' offices, and corporations, www.activdoctorsonline.com – developed by Medical Web Experts – goes beyond traditional EMR services by providing independent, EMR-enabled online medical consultations.

Beyond traditional medical practice EMR services, Online Medical Records from Activ Doctors Online provides an easy, secure, and organized way to store medical records. The innovative system allows patients to consolidate and store their medical records online, manage past and current medications, track their health history, and have online consultations with a network of world-class physicians. The login system is secure, and patients can access their medical records at any time and from any location. Patients using Activ Doctors Online can lower their medical costs, reduce the risk of diagnostic errors, and prevent unnecessary tests – and because records are stored independently of a health insurance provider, patients need not worry about losing their medical records upon switching insurance companies.

The Online Medical Records system also affords patients access to Second Medical Opinion – an online consultation program allowing patients to request a second opinion from a network of world-class physicians and specialists. Patients who are unsure or seeking more information about their treatment or their physician's recommendations can request a consult online; a team of experts in the appropriate specialty will analyze the patient's medical history and report a conclusion within 48 hours. In addition to providing patients access to the medical opinions of world-renowned specialists, Second Medical Opinion allows patients to minimize the risk of medical mistakes, save money, save time, and be more active in managing their health.

Activ Doctors Online offers plans for individuals, doctors' offices, and corporations – giving physicians the opportunity to increase revenue and patient base by providing better and more convenient care as well as allowing corporations to improve productivity, increase employee wellness and satisfaction, and save on health insurance costs. By allowing patients 24/7 access to their medical records and specialist consults, Activ Doctors Online has made EMR services efficient and convenient.
