Cottage Grove, MN ,Feb 14, 2007 – New Blog Released by Coastal Vacations expert and Internet Entrepreneur, Jeff Mills. The blog was developed to help people learn through multi-media, more about how the Coastal Vacations Club program works.

Coastal Vacations Club has been marketing discount travel memberships for over 12 years, helping people save $1000's off their vacations and has grown more in membership subscriptions in the last 2 years, than it has in the last 10 years put together.

Jeff Mills is one of the leading experts in the Coastal Vacations Club business. Jeff is a successful speaker, author and coach with many podcasting shows, including the Coastal Vacations Podcast, found at www.CoastalVacationsPodcast.com.

Each week, Jeff Mills, a Level 3 Director with Coastal Vacations, get calls from people trying to learn more about coastal and the biggest problem they face is finding other websites or blogs that have been misleading people away from the truth about how easy it really is to find success with a home based business like Coastal.

Jeff decided to show people an insider's perspective with fun multi-media presentations through audio and video, especially focusing on how people can finally make money from home by starting their own profitable Coastal Vacations Club business.

Jeff Mills commented, "Being one of the top Coastal Vacations Level 3 Directors, I get a lot of people calling and emailing me weekly to learn more about this awesome business, and I created this blog to be different than all the other sites out there. That way, all people looking at starting a business with Coastal, can learn before they decide to join with the wrong person, and they can protect themselves from people on the internet who might mislead them or worse- steal their money."

Mills continued, "There are a lot of Coastal directors on the net, claiming they can walk a certain way, even talk a certain way, close sales a certain way, but I see them failing to back up a lot of their claims with proof. It's all hype, smoke and mirrors. My sites are different. The proof is there on how I can show people how to earn a simple 6 figure income from their homes with a travel business like Coastal."

Jeff's blog can be found at www.coastalvacationclubblog.com.

It seems Jeff has designed his blog with the words "Web 2.0" running through his head. The blog is replete with multimedia audio, video, and podcasts. Plus potential clients can post comments and ask questions there too.

For those who prefer to read, there are 4 PDF brochures highlighting features and benefits of the vacation packages that Jeff offers.

Jeff was recently interviewed by a radio station in Minnesota's Twin Cities about his success working from home with his Coastal Vacations Club business. The interview is now available for listening as a free podcast.

Jeff said he plans to add videos showing the availability of cruises, condo stays and other details about what the vacation club offers.

Jeff offers this advice, "Whether you are planning your next dream vacation or choosing a home business, you need to make sure that the people you work with know what they're talking about. I do. And that's why over 500 people do business with me."

Those considering doing business with Coastal Vacations Club are well advised to take a closer look at Jeff's blog at www.CoastalVacationClubblog.com.
