(Forked River, NJ) – E Video Productions has partnered with USA International Fashion Shows to be the official videographer of Couture Fashion Week in NY as well as other fashion shows nationwide.

In February, Kristopher & Darcie King traveled to Manhattan's Waldorf Astoria to videotape Couture Fashion Week, a presentation of couture & luxury fashions from international designers. Designers included Kuwait's Haya Al Houti, Italy's Katya Leonovich, Moldova's Silvia Levit, South Africa's J.J. Schoeman, Lebanon's Jamil Khansa, Croatia's Gordana Radic, USA's own Andres Aquino & Stefan Daniel Bell, Germany's Henrieta Duffner, Nigeria's Estella Ogbonna & New York's own Denimaxx.

"Videotaping fashion shows is like nothing else," commented Darcie King, co-owner of E Video Production. "It was amazing to work with such beautiful subjects and such vibrant colors. I was amazed by the international presence at the shows, and by the number of local diplomats & luxury connoisseurs in attendance."

According to Kristopher King, co-owner of E Video Productions, "It was fascinating being a part of such a well put together production. Couture Fashion Week brought together a lot of very talented designers that really made my job easy. Their designs inspired my creativity as a video producer allowing me to put together videos that truly showcased their talents."

E Video Productions is looking forward to participating in upcoming shows in West Palm Beach, Florida, Washington DC & Beverly Hills, California, as well as the upcoming Couture Fashion Week back in NY in July. They, along with USA International Fashion Shows, are looking for sponsors to help continue the video coverage of these prestigious events. "We have a lot of great ideas that would really provide unlimited marketing potential for a sponsor. But in order to follow through with these ideas, we need to find sponsors for the shows coming up this spring," Ms. King added.

E Video Productions began in Avon, CT in 2001 & moved to Forked River, NJ in 2003. The owners, Kristopher & Darcie King, have worked with major networks such as NBC & ESPN. Kristopher King is an award winning shooter & editor winning awards for his work at ESPN & with major event videography companies.
