Los Angeles, CA—(April 27, 2007)— MTV award-winning director, Shane Drake, visited the set of the show Music Reel Direct on Music Plus TV today. Music Reel Direct interviews industry influencers, creative heavyweights and musical artists in the independent scene. The show brings new music videos, shorts, animations and interviews. The show's host, Reinel, requested Shane Drake to be her special guest this week.

During the hour-long interview, Drake shared some personal music video anecdotes, discussed his close relationship with the scorching hot band Paramore, his feelings on winning an MTV moon man and his future aspirations as a director in the entertainment industry.

“Music Plus TV has a cool set up,” shares Drake. “I didn’t know what to expect at the studio but I had a blast sharing insight on some of my videos. I hope that my fans enjoyed some of my personal stories and young, hopeful directors felt inspired to keep trying to make it in the industry. It is tough but well worth the hard work.”

Although the interview aired on live streaming internet video, Music Plus TV plans to create a webpage for Shane Drake and put the interview up again soon.
