After this year's winter season skiers have been reluctant to put away their sports equipment. Now that summer sunshine is showing its brightest side, skiing poles are mothballed and exchanged for caddies. Golf is going through a boom! But who says that carvers and snowboarders cannot pursue their hobbies any longer now? The 'Europa-Sportregion Zell am See-Kaprun' enables them to do just that: thanks to the Ski & Golf Package 2007, holidaymakers can experience the best of two wonderful seasons.

The new package deal starts off from 7th May. Until 17th June the guests of the region can profit from many advantages when they opt for a relaxed game of golf on the championship courses of the golf club or a fast downhill run on Kaprun's local mountain. Kitzsteinhorn, 3,203 metres high, rises majestically above the well-kept lawns of the two 18-hole golf courses.

The extensive glacier plateau just beneath the mountain summit is white even when temperatures are hot - a snow paradise right in the middle of summer. And the golf courses of the region also convince not by their functionality alone, but because their park-like composition offers a feast for the eyes. It is just a few minutes' walk that separates the two great points of attraction from each other - which the new holiday package now finally combines.

On the piste at one moment, and on the green the very next: from 238 euros the Ski & Golf Package takes visitors to one of the numerous star-winning hotels of the region for three whole days. It includes the ski pass for all lifts and cable cars as well as the entrance fees for the lidos and indoor pools of Zell am See, Thumersbach, Schüttdorf, and Kaprun. Moreover: a single or double green fee for the courses that have served as a venue for the European Ladies' Tour and men's charity tournaments is already included in the package.

More information about the new Ski & Golf Package of the 'Europa-Sportregion' is to be found on the Internet at www.europasportregion.info.
