

Kaminski Auctions Summer Fine Estates Auction - 7/14/07

Date: 04.04.2008 - 12:28

Category: Arts & Culture

Press release from: Kaminski Auctions

Agency: Fusco & Four

(Beverly, MA) - Kaminski Auctions, one of Massachusetts' premier antiques and fine art auction houses, announces their July 14 Estate Auction. This exciting auction features an eclectic mix of antiques, art, furniture and decorative accessories from multiple estates in Massachusetts and beyond. The auction takes place under the large tent at Kaminski Auctions on Saturday, July 14, 2007 commencing at 11 AM with previews on Friday from 10 AM - 5:30 PM and Saturday from 8 – 11 AM. Auction-goers are also invited to a walkaround garden architectural and statuary auction preceding the main auction event at 10 AM on Saturday. The estate auction features live online bidding through eBay Live auctions, and the complete catalog can be viewed online in advance of the sale. Kaminski Auctions is located at 564 Cabot Street, Beverly MA. For more information visit www.KaminskiAuctions.com or call 978-927-2223.

The day's offerings combine unique treasures from estates in Swampscott, Wakefield, Gloucester, Manchester-by-the-Sea, Ashland, Ipswich and a large collection of Victorian furnishings from Lunenburg. Highlights of the sale include a ladies platinum diamond ring with a stunning pear-shaped center stone flanked by baguettes (Est. $7,000 - $11,000); an early 19th Century American Chippendale walnut slant-front desk (Est. $4,500 – $6,500); and a painting by highly collected artist, Emile Gruppe, "The Clammer" (Est. $10,000 - $15,000). Gruppe, originally from Rochester, NY, spent the majority of his career in Gloucester, where he derived inspiration for his depictions of beautiful seaside landscapes and harbors.

The coveted lot of the day is a striking 19th Century sterling silver Tiffany & Co. oval pedestal bowl with an ornate repousse design and a gold vermeil inner bowl (Est. $2,500 - $3,500). There is a 15% buyer's premium when bidding with Kaminski, or 20% buyer's premium when bidding with eBay Live.

Enhancing the auction's diverse selection, additional lots include an early 20th Century Glenwood "Gold Medal" stove (Est. $2,000 - $4,000); a Philadelphia centennial mahogany highboy with brass hardware, circa 1870 (Est. $2,500 - $3,500); and a Quincy Tahoma painting, "Indians on Horseback" (Est. $2,500 - $3,500). This painting showcases Tahoma's evocative style and captures an intense and visceral moment with bold colors and painstaking detail.

"It is a real pleasure to offer collections and items from surrounding estates in our August auction," comments Frank Kaminski. "We have had a great deal of interest in this auction, and these recent consignments will turn out our collectors. We're happy to accept consignments from a single piece to an entire estate. Our role is to help people achieve the highest return for their valuables."

Kaminski Auctions also recently launched a second operation in San Diego, California.

For information, visit www.KaminskiAuctions.com or call 978-927-2223.

Kaminski Auctions, headed by Frank Kaminski, specializes in appraising and auctioning fine art and antiques. As part of a complete estate service package, Kaminski provides expert appraisals, local and national advertising for all sales, competitive fees, itemized accounting of all transactions for heirs and representatives. In addition to full estate auctions, Kaminski accepts partial estate liquidations, as well as individual pieces and collections for consignment. The firm's extensive clientele includes museums, historical societies, corporations, non-profit organizations and private individuals. In early 2007, Kaminski launched a second operation in San Diego, California. For information, visit www.KaminskiAuctions.com or call 978-927-2223.

Contact Information:

Joshua Payne or Tony Fusco
Fusco & Four
8 Allenwood Street
Boston, MA 02132
617-363-0405
fuscofour@aol.com

You can find this press release here