(NEWPORT BEACH, CA) – Global Language Solutions, Inc. (GLS), a full-service translation and interpreting firm with more than 13 years of experience delivering language services and solutions to organizations around the globe, announces the addition of Susan Bommarito to its southern California location. Ms. Bommarito will handle GLS' growing business development needs and manage the firm's latest client, a leader in the global greeting card industry. A seasoned sales and marketing executive with more than two decades of experience in consumer goods, Ms. Bommarito brings extensive strategic planning, account management, and business development skills to GLS.

Inna Kassatkina, Global Language Solutions' President, addresses the company's growth: "Businesses and government agencies continue to expand into new international markets, as well as strive to meet the multilingual needs of a diverse demographic in the U.S. In turn, the demand for culturally and linguistically accurate translation, localization, and other language services is growing. We have added sales and operations staff to meet this increase in demand for our services both inside and outside of California."
