27th August, 2007 – Eagle Merchant Services, the US’s lowest cost merchant provider, offers ecommerce merchant services, a full merchant solution for businesses online. This ecommerce service enables even the smallest Internet businesses to accept credit card payments online and offline from all major credit cards, while giving them near instant access to their funds.

Popular low cost merchant account providers such as PayPal allow businesses to accept payments online, where the money is paid into a holding account. However, it can take up to four days for the money to be retrieved and paid into a businesses bank account. In addition, to qualify for PayPal’s Merchant account services, businesses must guarantee at least $3,000 worth of payments into their account every month.

“PayPal is an inexpensive and good service for businesses occasionally trading on eBay. However even the smallest businesses in the online marketplace need to look at the bigger picture,” said Ritas Ziupsnys, President of Eagle Merchant Services. "Our services tailor to small and large businesses alike, giving them the merchant processing tools required to operate a growing business."

Backed by a Lowest Cost Guarantee and compatible with multiple payment gateways including Authorize.net, Eagle Merchant Services’ credit card processing services transact smoothly and businesses are assured prompt delivery of their money into their bank accounts. Along with Eagle Merchant Services “real person” customer support staff, businesses gain confidence in accepting credit cards with the personalized support crucial to remain ahead of their competition and proactive with their customers.

Unlike many merchant account providers, Eagle Merchant Services provides generous cost benefits to merchants including:
