Tuner Tools, LLC has closed negotiations with Enerpulse of Albuquerque, New Mexico and is now a worldwide retail outlet for the revolutionary new Pulstar Pulse Plugs.

For 100 years, ignition technology has been dominated by spark plugs. Pulse plugs are a radical departure from spark plugs. Their physical dimensions are the same as spark plugs because they have to interface with the engine and ignition system just like spark plugs. But this is where the similarity ends.

Pulse plugs incorporate a pulse circuit, which stores incoming electrical energy from the ignition system and releases the stored energy in a powerful pulse of power. Instead of 50 watts of peak power typical of all spark plugs, pulse plugs deliver up to 1 million watts of peak power.

In these times of concern for fuel efficiency and smaller displacement engines, it is with confidence that Tuner Tools has entered into this agreement and a firm believe that this is one of the most interesting new developments in the automotive industry.
