Search engine optimization company, Adviatech Corp., (adviatech.com) announced that they have added to the list of acceptable industries into their guaranteed SEO plan.

Tampa Florida based search engine optimization company, Adviatech, announced that they are allowing more competitive terms under the umbrella of their guaranteed search engine optimization service. Last month, Adviatech launched the guaranteed SEO plan which refunds the client's SEO management cost at the end of their contract term if the keywords and keyphrases did not appear on the first page of Google.

With the success of the launch and some new features included in the SEO package, Adviatech feels confident in their ability to optimize more competitive keywords and keyphrases within their guaranteed search engine optimization platform.

Adviatech Corp., Vice President, Jason Bland, commented, "When we review a web site to determine its competitive rating, we look at web competition more so than actual industry competition. Web competition is any web site ranked on the first page of Google for a client's keyword or keyphrase."

While Adviatech is offering the guaranteed search engine optimization service to more competitive web sites, the service term may be longer than that of moderately competitive keywords and keyphrases.
