New York - October 26, 2007 - "Giuliani taking credit for wiping out organized crime may have been a feather in his cap. Now that he's running for president, I hope that doesn't turn around on him to bite him back. People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones," stated Imperato.

Those were the words stated on July 28, 2007 by 2008's leading Independent Libertarian Presidential Candidate, Daniel Imperato.

Yesterday, according to published FBI records newly made available, the mafia almost sanctioned a hit during the 1980's on then federal prosecutor Rudy Giuliani.

The mob bosses decided by a 3-to-2 margin not to try to whack the future mayor and presidential candidate.

"It doesn't surprise me," stated Imperato upon learning of the recent FBI report, "Rudy Giuliani ran around New York City bragging about how he shut down the mafia. Instead of being a professional he tried to make himself a celebrity. I'm sure that people didn't take to kindly to Mr. Giuliani's ego trip."

Imperato also stated that he feels that that this is only the beginning of Rudy Giuliani "discoveries".

"Rudy Giuliani has paraded around New York City as some sort of hero for far too long now. I would not be surprised if new discoveries were to come out about Mr. Giuliani's business dealings and personal life that would cause America's to view him in a different way," stated Imperato.

This is not the first time that Rudy Giuliani's name has been brought up in connection with the mafia.

Back in July, in front in Grand Jury, former New York Mayor, Rudolph Giuliani testified that it was a "mistake" to recommend his former Police Chief Bernard Kerik to the post of Secretary of Homeland Security.

Kerik, who parlayed his 9/11 fame along with Giuliani into millions through the Giuliani Partners, is now sure to receive federal felony charges from tax evasion, to filing false information with the government. In addition, it has come out that Bernard Kerik has open mob ties.

In response to Kerik's open mob ties, Giuliani pointed to his history as New York mayor of virtually eliminating the mafia and organized crime from New York City.

"I find it interesting that Mr. Giuliani refers to his record as to why people should support him."

Imperato also pointed to the fact that Giuliani also did virtually nothing after the first World Trade Center attack in 1994 and allowed the terrorists come through the ports of New York City for the September 11 attacks.

"Giuliani has profited off of the poor people that lost their lives during the World Trade Center attack of 2001. He's a hero now. But when the terrorists attacked New York the first time in 1994, where was Rudolph Giuliani? It took a second World Trade Center attack for him to wake up. I hope that he wouldn't run our country like that. While Giuliani was mayor and Bill Clinton was President, they swept the first WTC attack under the carpet and noting was done to protect our country from allowing more terrorists into New York City to study the World Trade Center Towers and eventually kill over 3000 innocent Americans," stated Imperato.

After Imperato's comments and the release of the new FBI records, the Giuliani campaign has declined to comment.

Leading Independent presidential candidate Daniel Imperato commended national antiabortion leaders for their efforts to urge Congress to suspend the $300 million in federal funding of Planned Parenthood immediately.

"As a presidential candidate, I have a responsibility to ask that states uphold the law. Killing is murder, and allowing legal killing of a viable fetus is a crime beyond comprehension."

Specifically Imperato referred to an October 17th decision by a Johnson County, Kansas judge to proceed with a 107-count grand jury indictment against Planned Parenthood of Kansas and Mid-Missouri. "I applaud the judges actions to determine whether state and federal laws have been violated in allowing late-term abortions," stated Imperato.

Imperato has been on record several times over that last few years as being a staunch pr-life third party candidate. He made the rounds at the Values Voter conference in Washington last week to remind national antiabortion leaders that they should not settle for a Republican nominee who was not pro-life and that he would answer the call as a viable alternative.

"I support the decision of Dr. James Dobson when he stated he would not vote for Giuliani, even in a match-up with Hillary. He is a man of God and sticks to his principles. He pledged at the 1988 March for Life to never to vote for a pro-abortion candidate, and I offer him the perfect alternative."

Imperato pledged to support the fight against expanding the abortion mills. One 50,000 square foot Planned Parenthood facility worth fighting is being proposed for Denver, in the heart of a minority community. "People of color should not tolerate this attempt to reduce their population. Babies of color are of equal value to other babies and need to be saved."
