DALLAS – Dallas attorney Angel Reyes has been elected to the Board of Directors for the Greater Dallas Hispanic Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Reyes' appointment began January 1, 2008.

The Greater Dallas Hispanic Chamber of Commerce promotes and protects Hispanic businesses in the Dallas area, by supporting the advancement, education and economic growth of the Hispanic business community. With a membership of more than 1,800 businesses, corporations, and individuals, the chamber influences local commerce through certifications, legislative action and business development.

“I’ve been associated with the Greater Dallas Hispanic Chamber of Commerce for years and I’m honored to be selected to serve on the board of directors,” says Mr. Reyes. “The chamber is an outstanding resource for the local Hispanic business community, and I look forward to contributing to the group’s efforts in a more involved role.”

Mr. Reyes is a managing partner at Heygood, Orr, Reyes, Pearson & Bartolomei, where he focuses his practice on complex litigation involving insurance companies and corporations.

He is an active member of numerous organizations, including the Dallas Bar Association, the Greater Dallas Chamber of Commerce and City of Dallas Municipal Library Board. Mr. Reyes earned his law degree from the University of Michigan Law School and is currently completing his MBA from Texas Tech University.
