

CTI Announces Free Training

Date: 02-15-2008 06:39 PM CET

Category: IT, New Media & Software

Press release from: CTI

CTI, a leading provider of business solutions for the packaging industry is pleased to announce the launch of a free training program to support customers and better educate them in the advantages and use of CTI solutions. Recognizing that ongoing professional training would greatly benefit users and that it isn't always possible for packaging companies to bring CTI professionals onsite to train personnel, CTI developed this free alternative.

In the near future CTI will begin conducting training via the Internet, and all current CTI customers are welcome to attend. With the curriculum and class schedules currently under development, CTI is inviting its customers to suggest topics they would like to see covered in the new online classes.

Class space will be limited; any customers interested in the training program should pre-register at the CTI website, by visiting www.corrtech.com/training.

CTI
15150 Avenue of Science
San Diego, CA 92128
Jack McCullough
858-578-3550

Worldwide, manufacturers in the Forest Products industry are transforming their operations, and supply chains with industry-specific solutions from CTI. Since 1981, CTI has been a leading provider of highly flexible, best-of-breed MES, Supply Chain Execution, and business solutions for manufacturers within the Forest Products industry. Our integrated solutions promote operational excellence and optimize inventory throughout our customers' supply chains.

These functionally rich solutions are developed around a comprehensive industry model; based upon industry-specific key performance indicators (KPI), and best-practices. Twenty-five-years of industry-specific experience has allowed us to develop a robust implementation methodology and flexible solution architecture that facilitates efficient integration and customization while reducing costs and increasing ROI for our customers.

From plant floor sensors to the corporate boardroom, CTI solutions empower organizations to compete and excel in an increasingly competitive global marketplace. Adaptable solutions and an unmatched professional services organization allow us to deliver on our quarter-century-old commitment to innovation and quality in support of the Forest Products industry.

For more information about CTI, visit www.corrtech.com.

You can find this press release here