From managing doctors calls to billing services Fox Meadows Software (foxmeadows.com) an leader in Electronic Medical Record Software Providers, is able to provide the best in medical practice management systems.

With Electronic Medical Record Software even the simplest thing like making sure patience keep their appointments can be handled with Fox Meadows, medical practice management software.

Fox Meadows software “ReminderPro” handles routine patient communications effectively and conveniently. This technology:

- Prevents appointment “No-Shows”
- Provides Consistent Communication
- Eases Staff Overload
- Improves overall Patient Care

Missing appointments is both inconvenient to the Patient and the Doctor as well and increases cost by causing the doctor to have valuable down time. The Fox Meadows “ReminderPro” calls patients with friendly appointment reminders and important information. Patients appreciate the service, and the office manager and the Doctor will appreciate the control over the daily schedule.

Patient reviews have been superb, it is truly amazing what a phone call or message can do to keep everyone on schedule. Patients who are not as organized as others love the service since they are always reminded of up coming appointments.

The “ReminderPro” also keeps track of calls that are busy or unanswered, “ReminderPro” ensures that no one forgets to try back later and works after hours when more people are home to receive your call. Additionally, other tasks don’t distract “ReminderPro”, so you can rest assured that all calls are made. Office Managers can access an instant detailed report that gives a valuable audit trail of patient contact.

With “ReminderPro” doing the more mundane tasks, this leaves more time for medical professionals to do what they do best and that is, “take care of patients”.

Fox Meadows is an electronic medical records software provider located in South Carolina.
