To create a travelling system from scratch to the individual desire of each client- that is HENK.

HENK is about a dream- to create an extremely strong yet exceptionally light case which would not only be functional and very comfortable, but also a real eye-catcher.

It started with intensive research outside the narrow field of suitcase design to see what there was to learn from Formula One and aircraft technology. The result is a modern classic. A beautiful, lightweight and supremely comfortable all-in-one travelling system.

Exclusivity:

Innovation and craftsmanship, technology and beauty- the two go together at HENK.

The luxurious materials built into each HENK will only be enjoyed by those who have achieved a position in life that allows them to experience the very best. Those who look for experiences that are surprising, exquisite but above all, authentic. Those who recognise and appreciate excellence. Even to those who have grown accustomed to perfection, HENK exceeds all expectations.

HENK is a Dutch brand. It was originated, designed and developed in the Netherlands.

HENK's engineering and design team worked with Frog Design in California to optimise the development and design process. After which the HENK Travelfriend and Attaché Case came home to the Netherlands, where we added the finishing touches
