Cold call telemarketing is still the most effective way to reach and qualify potential customers

Putting together an effective telemarketing lead generation and business development plan can make the difference between landing a large new account or turning blue waiting for your phone to ring.

Most outside sales people cringe at the thought of making their own cold calls They would like to spend the bulk of their time on the road closing accounts.

Cold calling is our main focus. We can get the job done better because it's all we do! We will bring you extreme ROI and lower your sales and marketing budget. Your sales people may be strong at "closing the sale", but are they good at "prospecting"? We open doors so you can close deals!

We partner with our clients from day one. Our agents are experienced in setting quality appointments with high level decision makers over the phone. We will present your business solution/value proposition to the decision maker and generate enough interest in your product to set up a face to face meeting, our agents(telemarketers)will then place the appointment into a our system and the lead/appointment is sent to you via email. We are a "Pay For Performance Company" we do not believe in long term contracts or set up fees.

Please feel free to contact Matt Davis anytime at the number below to discuss your b2b telemarketing needs.

Telehammers.com is a Jacksonville Florida based pay-for-performance, business-to-business (B2B) appointment setting service. We generate highly qualified leads and set appointments with high level key decision makers by making strategic calls for each and every one of our clients. Sounds really simple doesn't it? Perhaps that is why there are quite a few companies that offer similar services (paid by the hour) as one of the many services they can offer.

The main difference with us is that "pay for performance telemarketing" lead generation services, and appointment setting is our top of our focus, it is not an "add on" service. We are professionals and dedicate all our resources to generating real time leads that produce an excellent return on investment(ROI) for our clients.

We employ a custom process that will deliver effective results. Each client's b2b telemarketing campaign we develop is customized to reflect the dynamics of their services, budget, competitive environment and the needs of every individual client. We take all aspects of the experience into account; it is just as important to us for a potential customer to be left with a positive impression of your company whether they decide to engage or not. We will ensure that your brand is maintained to the highest standards every step of the way.
