Press release from: G&V Hadjidemosthenous Ltd

Managing Director, Mr. Christakis Charalambous stated: "Our presence on the world wide web is crucial. Online marketing is now our most powerful promotion tool, making pafosproperty.com livelier, more attractive, informative and user friendly than ever is a major priority. The marketing of our business brand online and our future success are strategically linked."

The site now offers so much more information for potential clients who increasingly rely on the internet to educate and inform themselves about international property investment before coming to the country of their choice to make their decisions.

"Our clients who are coming to buy are now more informed than ever before" continues Mr. Charalambous. "They will have done their homework online before they step off the plane."

Many websites fail miserably in this respect due fact that they are not kept fully updated, but Hadjidemosthenous' professional team ensure all information is up to the minute. A full range of use friendly features have been added to the site as well as useful information about the area, Cyprus life, weather, in fact any aspect that one would wish to know about Cyprus and the area of Paphos!

Mrs. Oxana Mukhomedova, Sales & Marketing Coordinator stated: "Websites in themselves while being a platform to promote businesses also need a strong element of editorial worthiness. We would like our website to be recognised as an exciting information portal to promote Paphos as well as our properties and our company. We want to ensure that people coming to the site extend length of the time they spend on it and we are consistently monitoring the traffic to our site in this respect site to benchmark our success"

G & V Hadjidemosthenous Ltd has been established since 1961 and are the third largest developer in the Paphos area. They have a wide range of villas, apartments and studios in all the popular locations. Value for money and choice being consistent in their offerings, they are looking to the future with increased confidence.

"Keeping finger on the button is crucial essential to us quite literally," continues Oxana, "what we have to offer is what buyers want and it is at the right price. They know when they purchase a property from us they are getting value for money."

Mosetti Studios www.mosettistudios.com as the chosen on-line partner for www.pafosproperty.com have been working in the web design business for over 8 years. Managing Director, Mr. Marco Mosetti has a solid portfolio of experience which not includes hosting and 3-d imagery, but also in ensuring sites increase their effectiveness through increased and optimized web traffic. Designing an attractive site is just the tip of the iceberg," cites Mr. Mosetti, "you can have the best looking site in the world however if it lacks current and interesting information no-one is going to spend long visiting it and if you don't seek expert advice on how to attract visitors, then no-one is going to find it on the search engines." Mosetti Studios can help you achieve an effective and profitable on-line marketing plan.
