

Second Life: Continued growth at euroSLEX: trading volume tops 50 million L$

Date: 06-02-2008 01:56 PM CET

Category: IT, New Media & Software

Press release from: euroSLEX

In May 2008, euroSLEX continued to ride on a path of strong growth: Registered users grew 33% to 1,650, and trading volume of these users grew at an even faster pace, up from 14.5 million Linden dollars in April 2008 to over 22 million Linden dollars in May (+53%).

"This puts the total amount traded since the start of our service to over 50 million Lindens" says Iliana Suppan, managing director of Virtual World Services GmbH, the company behind euroSLEX.

Second Life users can also profit from this positive developments through the "euroSLEX Partner Network". Referral fees paid to partners have surged 70% in this month!

Company: Virtual World Services GmbH
Address: Andreas-Hofer-Platz 7, 8010 Graz, Austria
Managing Director: Iliana Suppan
E-Mail: suppan@virtualworldservices.eu
Website: www.euroslex.com

About euroSLEX:

euroSLEX is the „European Second Life Electronic Exchange“, a true currency exchange for trading Linden dollars against the Euro, British Pound, and Swiss Franc. The current price as determined by the market forces of supply and demand gives euroSLEX customers access to the best price available under current market conditions. The fully automatic trading platform at www.euroslex.com reduces manual intervention to a minimum, which means lowest commissions of just 0.5% to 2.5%, depending on trading volume. The service is operated by Virtual World Services GmbH, a real-world company registered in Austria with the mission to bring a new level of professionalism and trust to Second Life.

You can find this press release here