Waitsfield, VT – The organization which delivers professional opera to the hills of Vermont via the Green Mountain Opera Festival announces late summer and early fall cultural events in Vermont’s Mad River Valley. Located at the Round Barn Farm, specifically in the lovingly restored Joslyn Round Barn, the Green Mountain Cultural Center has been promoting visual, performing, and culinary arts for over 18 years and continues the tradition with photography, music, and visual art this August, September, and October.

As world renowned opera singers, costume designers, and orchestra conductors leave the Green Mountains upon the conclusion of the Green Mountain Opera Festival, photography exhibits from across Vermont and New England make their way to the Round Barn Farm for the 18th Annual Photography Exhibit. The exhibit is the official kick-off to the Vermont Festival of the Arts (www.vermontartfest.com) and features over 185 photographs by over 60 photographers. Beautifully displayed in the Joslyn Round Barn, the exhibit is open to the public with a $3.00 suggested donation throughout the month of August. The exhibit opens Monday, August 4 and concludes Sunday, August 31. Hours are 9:30 am to 5:00 pm daily with occasional exceptions for private events. More information is available at www.theroundbarn.com/cultural.htm.

The night before the exhibit opens, a sneak peek can be had if attending the annual Adamant Music School Concert, traditionally held in the Joslyn Round Barn every year prior to the opening of the Photography Exhibit. Piano students from the Adamant Music School perform their final concert of the season on Sunday, August 3 at 7:30 pm. The Adamant Music School offers non-competitive piano study in an atmosphere of cooperative living. Tickets are available by calling 802-496-7722 and more information on the school is available at www.adamant.org.

As autumn colors transform Vermont into its most sought after season, the Green Mountain Cultural Center prepares for the premier juried art event of the Mad River Valley. The highly anticipated Art in the Round Barn, a juried multimedia show, presents an alluring and dramatic gallery of some of Vermont and New England’s finest professional and amateur artists. Judged by a panel of well known Boston based gallery directors and owners, Art in the Round Barn has become a highly established and respected annual opportunity for showmanship and recognition in the Northeast art community. Art in the Round Barn is open daily from 9:30 am to 5:00 pm beginning Monday, September 22 through Monday, October 13. A suggested donation is requested and occasional exceptions may apply for private events. Tickets are available for purchase to attend the Artist’s Reception on Sunday, September 21 from 4:00 to 7:00 pm. The Inn at the Round Barn Farm’s resident catering company, Cooking From the Heart, will prepare a delightful culinary display and several artists and judges will be in attendance. Tickets are available by calling 802-496-7722 and more information is available at www.theroundbarn.com/cultural.htm.
