Ambitious goals include fast expansion of the Professional Services business in the areas of Software development, SAP® consultancy and implementation, along with the integration of SAP and Non-SAP solutions

Munich, September 4, 2008 - The Galileo Group AG, one of the leading suppliers of software engineering and consultancy services in the area of heterogeneous ERP landscapes and IT Service Management solutions, has announced the appointment of Peter Ihbe to the position of Vice President Services, Sales and Marketing for its Professional Services business. Ihbe will prove a valuable addition to the management team at the Galileo Group, and his experience will be of huge advantage to Galileo as it continues to expand.

Peter Ihbe has been working in the IT industry for over 15 years, and for almost a decade he has held an executive position in the sales and marketing department of a leading business services company. After qualifying as an engineer, Peter started his career with the US based Molex Inc., where he held a variety of duties in the area of European IT-management, sales and key account management. Moving on to DV-RATIO SÜD GmbH as Head of Sales for Professional Services, he was responsible for the establishment and development of the company's consultancy services. Ihbe's ambitious goal in his new position with Galileo is "to assist the Galileo Group in its efforts to become one of the leading providers of business services in its market segment over the medium term."

"Peter Ihbe is bringing a wide-ranging management experience and a proven track record along into to the Galileo Group to successfully expand and develop a professional services business," says Malte Klassen, CEO of the Galileo Group. "We are confident that his skills will lead him to take on a key role in the planned expansion of the Galileo Group."

"In this highly competitive environment there will clearly be an increasing demand for top-quality business services and flexible client collaboration. A long-term partnership with our clients based on trust and reliability is extremely important to us. Successful projects and satisfied clients are the twin pillars of our growth strategy," explains Peter Ihbe, the new Vice President Services, Sales and Marketing for the Professional Services division at Galileo Group AG. "I am thrilled looking forward to work with the Galileo Group, particularly because I will be able to support the company's drive to gain a larger market segment and to expand into new markets," adds Ihbe.
