Press release from: Vacaville Honda

Vacaville, CA – Vacaville Honda, a leading dealership for new, pre-owned Honda vehicles, parts, service and finance at Vacaville, California, is pleased to announce that Honda's new hybrid concept, the Insight, will be unveiled at the 15-day Paris Auto Show 2008 scheduled to begin on October 4.

The Insight comes with a unique style and sophisticated design, sharing styling cues with the groundbreaking, hydrogen fuel cell powered, FCX Clarity. It is a futuristic five-door hatchback motivated by a new lighter weight and efficient Integrated Motor Assist IMA® system. This affordable new hybrid model will be priced significantly lower than other hybrids available today.

It is expected to be on sale during the spring of 2009. Honda continues its now well-known environmentally responsible technology. Contact Vacaville Honda for details.
