Montreal, Canada, September 22, 2008 -- Blueslice Networks, the leading provider of subscriber management solutions for the Mobile, VoIP, FMC, and M2M markets, has received the inaugural Red Herring Top 50 Award as one of the most innovative and promising companies in Canada. The award was presented at the Red Herring Canada 2008 conference, which was held in Tremblant, Quebec on September 15-17.

The nominees were evaluated on both quantitative and qualitative criteria, such as financial performance, technology innovation, quality of management, execution of strategy, and integration into their ecosystem. "This year showcased some of the most promising Canadian corporations," said Red Herring editor-in-chief Joel Dreyfuss. "Choosing the top 50 companies from a group of 100 finalists was incredibly difficult. The top 50 companies who were chosen this year should be proud, as competition was strong."

"We appreciate the endorsement from Red Herring that Blueslice is in fact making significant contributions to advancing telecom infrastructure both in Canada and globally," said Stephan Ouaknine, President and CEO of Blueslice. "Much of the excitement of a dramatically changing telecom landscape is coming from massive growth in developing countries, emerging new mobile service providers, and forward-thinking equipment vendors."
