(Fayetteville NC) In an effort to increase value for its customers during difficult economic times web hosting company Advanced Internet Technologies (www.AIT.com?pdkw=pr-fr-10-22-2008) announced today that for a limited time all of its new hosting plans will allow unlimited domains to be served regardless of price. “We are working hard every day to improve our value proposition to our customers. Times are tough and if we don’t continue to provide ways to get more for less than someone else certainly will. Our new resellers should have the biggest benefit, as this promotion allows them to grow without restriction. Additionally, we hope to see our business class accounts experimenting as resellers. It’s a win in our minds for everyone,” says Sean A. McCoy Chief Marketing Officer.

The company cites real world examples of how this improvement in service capabilities creates profitability for a typical business class hosting customer. For instance, a non-technical entrepreneur can create inexpensive web sites for their customers using AIT’s free web site builder, Ready4Design2007, and host all of those web sites for less than sixty dollars per year. Companies and individuals who have never contemplated expanding their revenues through web services now have a low cost, high feature packed option to enter this service arena.

This announcement is preceded by AIT’s release last week of “Email Marketer Pro” which provides an all-in-one automated email marketing solution. “If you bundle the two offerings together (Email Marketer Pro and unlimited hosting) you really get a launch pad for success...customers can market for new prospects and sign them up while staying in touch with current customers in the form of newsletters and announcements. The only real limitations to success are the individual effort and the physical capacity of the server,” continued McCoy. AIT has also stated that it will offer limited time upgrades to current business and reseller accounts who contact the company.

This opportunity is extended by creating an online advertising campaign using tyBit (an AIT Subsidiary www.tyBit.com/advertiser.php?pdkw=pr-fr-10-22-2008) The company offers a multitude of advertising options from traditional pay per click to a flat rate pay for position model. Happy with his decision to advertise within tyBit’s Search Engine, Berge Kaprelian CEO of Beka Publishing stated, “We have received over 40+ leads from our ads on tyBit, we love it.”

AIT is home to over 210,000 customers to include Fortune 500 companies as well as small businesses. AIT was founded in North Carolina and has grown into a multimillion-dollar web hosting and technology company. Clients like Time Warner, Microsoft, Newsweek, U.S. Federal Government, PC World, United Nations, Business Week, The Oakridge Boys, State of North Carolina, Department of Defense, Wall Street Journal, ZDNet, Pizza Hut, GOODYEAR, Smart Money, Discover Radio, and many more have benefited from AIT’s products and services. The company has been named 2 times to the INC. 500 list of fastest growing firms and 3 times to the Deloitte & Touché Fast 500 list.
