AURORA, CO -- Cases.com recently announced it is now offering new stylish phone cases from popular Swedish manufacturer Krusell International. The new phone cases, which are exclusively designed for women, are from Krusell's popular Purple Label and offer a variety of trendy, glamorous styles and shapes. The new collection features a wide selection of well-appointed cases available in colors ranging from feminine pastels to bright, bold accents and flirty metallic hues.

Providing an appealing combination of high quality products with superior customer service, Cases.com is recognized as one of the leading handheld device accessory distributors online. Operated by Aluron, Inc., the e-commerce reseller and distributor Cases.com offers an expansive collection of cases and accessories for the most popular PDAs, SmartPhones, cell phones, Pocket PCs, mp3 players and other handheld electronic devices.

"It is our goal to offer our customers quality handheld device cases and accessories that are an expression of each buyer's distinctive personality. The new Krusell Purple Label is a beautiful, exciting combination of enchanting and classical elements to truly complement each customer's unique sense of style. We are confident the new Krusell Purple Label will soon become one of our top selling collections among women," says Alex German of Cases.com. (www.cases.com)

The trendy phone cases featured in Krusell's Purple Label range from simple, and sleek phone coverings to versatile wallet-style carrying cases. Three of the most popular cell phone cases in the new collection are the Coco, Couture and Lush. The Coco case is fun and flirty and features classical quilted elements for chic style. Available in black or white nappa leather with a feminine embossed flower pattern, the functional Couture case also offers a detachable braided shoulder strap, charms and tassel. Great for everyday use, the sleek and protective Lush case is available in an exciting rainbow of patent leather summer colors.

Each Krusell phone case is made from exquisite leather and is available in one size which will conveniently fit small to medium sized phones. The versatile cell phone cases can also be used as smaller evening bags, featuring functional space to hold necessary belongings such as credit cards, lipstick and even car keys.

Founded in 1991, the case manufacturer, Krusell, produces and globally distributes unique carrying equipment for portable devices. In addition to providing cases for mobile and SmartPhones, Krusell also manufactures carrying devices for PDAs, mp3 players and laptops. Many of Krusell's stylish cases feature the firm's patented Multidapt[®] carrying system, which allows for unlimited combinations of carrying choices.

"The unique phone cases manufactured by Krussell are stylish and affordable choices for cell phone protection. Cases.com is very excited to add such a fashionable and versatile collection to our product offering," says German.
