Guadalajara (Mexico)/Karlsruhe (Germany) - The „Universidad del Valle de Atemajac“ (UNIVA) is the first private university in Latin America which enables its students to acquire IT knowledge in practice in the area of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP). The ABAS Software AG has sponsored the university with their ERP Software for this purpose. The young and internationally oriented Mexican university and the globally operating abas Business Software are matching each other's needs perfectly.

Successful Implementation

UNIVA, located in Guadalajara, the second largest city of Mexico, has committed to an internationally oriented study course. Now the students of the faculty of business studies not only learn in practice about the ERP system processes in a company, they can also use an international operating ERP-Software. This knowledge in practice also helps the students in their search for future employment.

Advantages of the ABAS Software AG: it presents the abas Business Software to future possible customers from the whole of Mexico and at the same time collects new ideas for further development of the ERP Software through feedback from students. The abas Business Software was initially implemented in the currently running semester (September – December 2008) in the faculty of business studies in UNIVA.

First feedback of the students: They adored the well structured and simple to understand ERP System. The implementation of the abas Business Software at the university is supported by the Mexican abas partner: Transformaempresas D.B.M. with headquarters in Guadalajara, Mexico.

About ABAS Software AG

Founded in 1980, ABAS provides cost-effective ERP and eBusiness solutions to over 2,000 customers and more than 45,000 users worldwide, with solutions offered in 28 languages. ABAS was named number one in customer satisfaction in the ERP 2007, 2005, 2003, and 2002 studies published by the Konradin Group. ABAS ranked first in price/performance ratio, functional fit, stability, ease of use and upgrades. The study shows that the package requires a third less time to implement and a total investment well under the ERP average. The brand name abas Business Software (ERP, PPC, MRP, eBusiness) runs on Linux, Unix and Windows. Approximately 80% of all installations to-date are Linux-based. ABAS is headquartered in Karlsruhe, Germany and sells its software through its worldwide partner network. For more information, visit:
