Ever seen sales copy like this?...

"Overnight, you can flood your business with customers. Engorge your bank account with massive amounts of cash. Crush your competition. And take any venture — in any market — from zero to breathtaking success in a matter of days."

It DOES happen to others. So, why hasn't it happened to you yet? Are you still promoting someone else's affiliate product? Are you still sending visitors to other peoples websites only to watch their subscriber list grow to the point where mail servers are stressed to the max?

Every "big time" marketer will tell you, unequivocally, that you need to have YOUR OWN PRODUCT to rake in the big bucks. Right? Then what do they do next? They get you to promote their products for them!

Stop. Turn around. Face the other direction.

You just need the right tool to turn the tables. Something with sophisticated features that's simple to use.

Raw and unedited, here's what the creator of this amazing software has to say...

"... This software is so bloody cool, God's Truth, I honestly did not want to sell it! I could probably make MORE money keeping the software to myself, and being the ONLY one who could create eBooks that work and look like the ones this software creates.

They are just plain fun. Even old articles could become 'cool' ebooks with a single click! But, for the moment, here it is... "
