LOS ANGELES, CA -- The exclusive, trend-setting men's and women's designer jeans retailer eModa, has announced the launch of its new online German designer clothing store at emoda.de.

Frequented by some of the biggest stars of this century, the celebrity fashion boutique is also a popular choice with style-smart German speaking customers as well.

"German fashionistas love American fashion, but it's difficult for them to purchase because of the language barrier. We don't think that should stop them from having access to the latest trends," said Michelle Miller of eModa (emoda.com).

"We've taken all of the brands, fashions, and accessories from our original boutique and made it easier and more convenient for our German-speaking customers. They can find all of their favorite items including our full line of men's and women's designer jeans, and put together the hottest looks so that they too can enjoy the latest trends," said Miller.

Emoda.de isn't the only big change the women's and men's designer jeans retailer included in its expansion plans. The premium fashion provider is also planning on opening a new physical location in Germany within the next two years.

The Russian population will also benefit from eModa's future plans. A Russian version of the popular online store is currently under construction, and should be complete during the first quarter of this year.

The elite designer clothing store has become world-renowned since its early beginnings of a husband and wife run online retailer. Today, their online and offline stores feature more than 250 of the world's most elite clothing lines including Energie, True Religion, Laguna Beach, and Evisu.

Their superior taste in women's and men's designer jeans and other items have made them a huge hit with A-Listers from around the world, but there is much more to this fashion hot spot. eModa's ability to create a customized, private shopping experience has attracted a large number of musicians, rap artists, models, actors, actresses, and sports stars.

"Our online customers can browse through our clothing and accessories with the utmost privacy so that they can truly enjoy their shopping experience. Here at the store, it isn't unusual for us to kick back with our star clientele. They have fun, and don't have to worry about the paparazzi and other hassles that come with traditional retail stores," said Miller.

About eModa: eModa is a top online designer fashions provider offering the hottest brand names and accessories from around the globe. In addition to its online boutique full of premium women's and men's designer jeans and clothing items, eModa offers a VIP shopping experience and a price guarantee as well as free shipping and returns. eModa offers a unique online shopping experience for both English speakers at emoda.com and German speakers (emoda.de).
