TORONTO, May 2009 – CTA Firm Genuine Trading Solutions sign strategic partnership agreement with leading environmental consulting and air quality assessment company Calvin Consulting Group of Calgary Alberta.

Genuine Trading Solutions President, Dwayne Strocen and Calvin Consulting Group President Ann Jamieson announced today a Strategic Partnership agreement. "The two companies will be pooling their resources to provide an enhanced product line to existing as well as future emitters of CO2 carbon emissions. The two companies will now be better equipped to focus greater attention on projects in Europe and Asia" says Mr. Strocen.

Working together to provide the critical assessment of greenhouse gas management as well as trading of carbon emissions and credits is a step to establishing greater integration of service. In working together, both companies can now institute a greater range of expertise in gathering a larger share of a competitive market. Ms. Jamieson says "We believe the integration of environmental greenhouse gas management with sound financial and risk management of CDM credits is an essential piece of a larger picture." She adds "Our partnership will allow us to much better serve our North American and overseas customers as a single integrated company."

"Today's successful companies are enhancing products, providing greater customer service and expanding into new territories. Calvin Consulting Group and Genuine Trading Solutions are moving from the North American carbon market into the larger international market. This Partnership will allow us to be uniquely positioned to capture a potential larger market share." says Dwayne Strocen, Genuine Trading Solutions President and CEO.

Both companies are pleased to provide their special expertise and believe the real winner is the carbon industry as it evolves to the ever changing demands of its participants.
