

WRS Italia: a glance towards the future

Date: 05-15-2009 10:09 PM CET

Category: Energy & Environment

Press release from: WRS Italia

Nowadays, environment, pollution, resources exploitation and recycling are considered pivotal themes and main characters in the agenda of companies, organization, and authorities. A large number of companies are making several efforts to support present and future recycling activities and numerous are also the challenges that businesses and governments are facing in order to employ and manage our planet resources.

WRS Italia, in these issues, plays a role particularly active that allows the company to bring a considerable contribution throughout its activities to improve the environment. For these reasons the company is proud to take part in this industry which innovates and develops itself in order to find solutions which consent to grow in a clever and acknowledged way as society and therefore collection of individuals.

With the purpose of realizing these aims, it is necessary a never-ending and dynamic growth based on research and study of new recycling solutions. WRS Italia, which constantly proposes new high quality systems and machines, cooperates with OMER, company with many years of experience in precision machinery, which produces the equipment planned and installed by WRS Italia. Moreover, WRS Italia, attentive connoisseur and expert, offers technical consultancy and assistance before and after the sale in order to take care of its clients' equipment.

Systems and machines, which increase the wide range of products and services offered by WRS Italia, are various, from the systems for the treatment of tyres, W.E.E.E. and refrigerators to advanced grinders and shredders; and numerous services to manage the equipment. In order to prove WRS Italia's devotion to innovate, conceive and realize products always more innovative, it is appropriate to announce the next launch of its new product, a new system to treat the steel coming from the treatment of tyres.

For further information visit the website: www.wrsitalia.com

WRS Italia, company specialized in production and management for waste recycle, takes actively part in the improvement of the environment. WRS Italia conceives and manage the equipment and provides consultancy and assistance to its clients; OMER, partner, produces systems and machines.

Elena by Linkness
via Miranese 448
Chrignago 30174
Venezia (Italy)

You can find this press release here