May 2009 - nonstopConsulting International has established further presence in the UK and Europe by securing a deal with Warehouse Express, the leading independent online retailer of photographic equipment and accessories.

Warehouse Express has appointed nonstopConsulting International to handle their affiliate programme in Germany and Denmark. Further campaigns are planned throughout Europe in accordance with Warehouse Express growth strategy.

The partnership heralds a further increase for nonstopConsulting's growing list of European merchants which already include Swarovski, Office Depot, Otto, Wolford, Vodafone, Brussels Airlines, Transavia, Sol Melia, Sixt, EasyCar and many more.

Russell Morris, European Director of Warehouse Express says, "Our dedication to service, specialist expertise and outstanding customer support underpinned with competitive prices has ensured us our place in the UK as the largest and fastest growing independent photographic reseller. We have been looking for strategic partners to help us repeat that success in other European countries and are confident we have found such partner in nonstopConsulting International."

Founded in 2002, nonstopConsulting is one of the leading performance marketing agencies in Europe. From our head quarters in Munich and offices in the UK & in the Netherlands we offer services and solutions for affiliate marketing and Pay-Per-Click (PPC) advertising in over 20 countries worldwide.
