Press release from: Michael Richter - International marketing and sales consultant

The patented procedure developed by Professor Dr. Reinhard Graf – sonography of the hips of newborn babies – is totally painless, free from any radiation burden and other influences dangerous to health – and it had been honoured by the Austrian health ministry.

The examination of the hips of newborn babies (latest weeks 4 – 6 after birth) belongs to the usual examination programme of every paediatrician.

Professor Dr. Reinhard Graf started already 30 years ago to deal with this development.

The result is a system consisting of the products 'Sono Fix' – the positioning device for the examination – and 'sonoguide' the scanner holding part.

The hip sonography as per the Graf-method had been established as a screening procedure for all hips of newborn babies 1992 in Austria, 1996 in Germany and 1997 in Switzerland.

By means of these two products, which form together a fixed system – please see www.baby-dysplasie.eu/en/ - every doctor, paediatrician or childrens' clinic is enabled to perform faultless examinations.

Meanwhile this general analytical diagnosis is accepted worldwide and is applied as a facultative method also in countries as Italy, Hungary, Poland, England, France, India, Israel, Spain, Japan, China, USA, Canada, and more.

Production and sales are exclusively in the hands of Messrs. Gebrüder Hirschbeck GmbH, St. Peter am Kammersberg / Austria. Details are available via the site mentioned above or by mail.
