Press release from: CONSULTus Expatriate Briefings & Intercultural Seminars GmbH

Frankfurt am Main/Germany, (Juli 15, 2009) - With the re-launch of their Website, Consultus GmbH presents its services in a harmonious combination of professional clarity and emotional elements with attention for detail.

The ultimate goal was to offer a clear overview of our portfolio, to introduce our new product and services range, and to offer the content in both the English and the German language.

.. we are pleased with our re- designed corporate presentation. It clearly represents the growth of our company and our stature in the marketplace, but not at the cost of losing the unique corporate identity of CONSULTus, says Hilly van Swol-Ulbrich.

Our intercultural trainings are centered round the participant, so we work with people. Professionalism is key, but an eye for the personal needs is just as important.. I think our new website reflects this.
