Vegas Rock Dog rock 'n' roll clothing for hip dogs and humans. Literally no frills... this cool line of clothing is the puppy of Sam and Jim Ratcliffe-D'Arrigo whose love of Las Vegas, music and dogs inspired what is now to be the must have piece of designer clothing for those who consider themselves hip. "We wanted to dress our dog Galaxy in something other than frills and bling and after shopping without much success we decided to start our own line of clothing for dogs. Our plan was to sell to dogs of all sizes and we mean all the way up to 130lbs yet everyone who saw our logo wanted to wear it themselves and thus the human aspect of the business was added. We have an eclectic clientele from celebrities, to Hells Angels, a great deal of musicians and even a few grannies. We knew we had a great concept but we are surprised by the excitement that our line has generated."

Vegas Rock Dog or VRD as know to the insider has big plans to expand and become the Dolce and Gabanna of dog clothing with many new designs about to hit the horizon. Don't be left out of the fashion pack and visit www.vegasrockdog.com and shop the VRD way.
